Newport Infant School—History

Topic: Holidays	Key Stage 1 Year 1	Strand: Changes within living memory

What should I already know?

- That people enjoy holidays
- That people that who are older than me were born before me
- There was a time before my grandparents were born

Historical Skills and Enquiry

- Sort images between past and modern identifying similarities and differences
- Discuss how holidays have changed over time and the reason for these changes
- Place objects on a timeline and write a short description for each object
- Discuss the holidays of their parents and grandparents
- Use words such as old, new, past, present, before (was born), after (I was born) then, now and a long time ago

What I will know by the end of the unit

Holidays first started in the 1700's
The first seaside holidays were for the very rich
The first seaside town was Scarborough
The invention of the railways in the 1840's meant more people could go on holiday
Hotels were built for people to stay in
Bathing machines were used by people in the Victorian times
Similarities in holidays then and now- fish and chips, donkey rides
Differences in holidays then and now- length of stay, clothing worn, places visited, how we travel there
The different types of holidays we can enjoy nowadays
