Friday: I can solve problems involving multiplication

An ice cube tray holds 10 ice cubes. If I had 3 ice cube trays, how many ice cubes could I make?

_____

Tom, Sam, Jim and Jay all have 5 sweets each. How many sweets have they altogether?

_____

Stamps cost 5p each. I buy 6. How much money do I need?

_____

My bookcase will fits 10 books on each shelf. I have 5 shelves full. How many books have I got?

_____

Challenge: I have 24 socks in my drawer. If I put them in twos, how many pairs of socks will I have?

_____