Can you practice spelling them at home?

Literacy

This week we have been learning the features of a fairy tale. We have started this with Little Red Riding Hood. We have also looked at describing words for the character personality and how they look.

Challenge:

Can you remember what the story openers are? Could you verbally create a new story about Little Red Riding Hood?

Numeracy

This week we have been learning how to find the difference between two numbers. We grew this learning by pairing our work with a subtraction number sentence. Remember we write the biggest number first!

Challenge:

Can you play this game by creating two rows of different amounts of counters. Then can you write what the number sentence would be like we have done in class? Two Color Counters (didax.com)
