16/03/2023 Week 10

Homework Year 1

Phonics

This week we have been practicing for our Phonics Screen Assessment.

Support at home is in the form of reading regularly. Whilst you read ask the children to spot the special friends in the words. Continue to encourage them to Fred talk the word before saying it if they are not sure. After, re-read the sentence to increase their reading fluency 😊

(Use the free books on Oxford Owl if you like!)

Tricky Words

This week we have been learning the tricky words

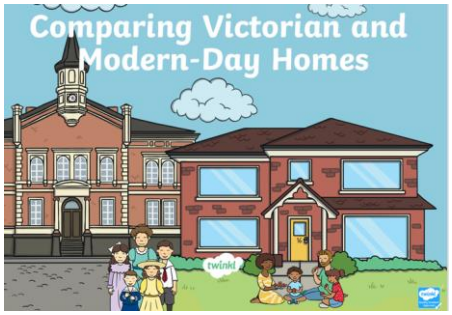

how, now and down

Practice writing them down, cover them over and write again from memory. Did you get them right? If not, that's okay! Use a green for growth pencil and fix them! You can then try again 😊

Literacy

This week we have been looking at Victorian homes and our own. We have been using wow words to describe what our homes are like. We have also learnt about Queen Victoria.

Challenge: Can you find a home that is different to yours and describe it?

Numeracy

This week we ask that you practice counting in your 2s, 5s and 10s. If you feel you are fantastic at counting in those groups and counting amounts of groups in those numbers, please can you practice your addition and subtraction number sentences.

You will have been set a game to help you on Purple Mash.

16/03/2023 Week 10

Homework Year 1

Use the number line to help you with your Maths Homework. Remember → means you're adding and ← means you are subtracting.

Use this space for your describing work!

Important Notices

Next Tuesday and Thursday are our designated parents evening dates. If you have not already, please contact Mrs B or Miss H for a time. Slips with your allocated time will be given tomorrow.

No Muddy Club next week – The children will be doing Easter Crafts 😊

Have a wonderful weekend! See you Monday!
