

Heeley's Highlights

Issue No: 04
Date: 26/09/2025

Dear Parent/Carers,

This week we had our first assembly on Super Sue!

Super Sue is a Superhero who has been generated by our own pupils to help them to understand how they can stay safe both in and out of school. The Safety Crew and staff use her message to support children in basic safety rules and they use the visual message that she offers to ensure that all children have an increasing understanding of how to stay safe.

What do Super Sue's special tools do to help us keep safe?

Ask your child what special tools Super Super Sue has!

Please see next page for more details on Super Sue.

Have a lovely weekend.

Emma Heeley

Headteacher

Super Sue's megaphone is to remind all of our children that they need to speak out and tell a grown up if they are worried about something. We revisit this regularly in school and ask our families to do the same at home, always praising a child if they tell us something that is worrying them or that they find difficult to say.

Super Sue wears big starry pants to remind children about the PANTS rule which is promoted by the NSPCC. This tells them that pants are private and that what is under their pants is private.

Super Sue's mask is to remind our children that they must keep their identity secret on line and that they must not give away any personal details when they are using the internet. They also represent the fact that children may not be talking to the person they believe they are communicating with when they are online so they should not agree to meet them.

Super Sue has an outstretched hand to remind our pupils that they need to hold a grown-up's hand when they are crossing roads and in busy places.

Super Sue's belt reminds our children that keeping the Golden Rules of our school helps them to stay safe.

We are exceptionally proud of our children for being so confident about how to stay safe and for creating Super Sue.
